

Letter from the Directors

Hello from Camp Eagle Individual Camp!

We are so excited that you have decided to send your camper out to Individual Camp this summer. We want to thank you for trusting us to serve and take care of your camper; this is a trust we take very seriously and consider in everything that we do. Throughout the year, we work to improve our program to better suit the needs and safety of your campers. With this year-round effort, we improve our programs to facilitate a safe and adventurous environment!

The health and safety of our campers is our first priority. In light of the COVID-19 pandemic, we think it is important that you understand our efforts to manage your camper's health and safety so that you can make an informed choice. We are focused on taking all reasonable measures to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

We have strengthened our standard cleaning procedures while adding increased frequency measures for things such as wiping down common touchpoints, dining hall areas, and activity equipment. Additionally, we have taken measures to monitor and address symptomatic campers by introducing a pre-camp health screener, daily temperature checks, and protocols to isolate, confirm, respond, and remove any camper or staff with suspected COVID-19. We are also striving to have a visiting medical professional onsite for each session.

This situation continues to change daily, and as such, we will adapt and adjust our protocols and procedures as we follow the guidance provided by the CDC, the governor's orders for Texas, and local health departments, in our efforts to help keep our campers, staff, and families safe.

If you need any additional information or have any questions related to Covid-19 please feel free to email: courtney.lyon@campeagle.org or you may call her at: 830-683-2634.

This summer, we are focusing on the story of Joseph and how his life relates to us during these strange days which we find ourselves in. We will focus on how God uses and redeems broken characters to showcase His majesty and ultimate plan. We love to show campers that although we endure struggles, trials, and temptations, God has chosen and loves each of them deeply and has a masterful plan for their lives.

To this end, Camp Eagle allows campers to experience a multitude of choices and activities that bolster their self-confidence and allows them to discover who it is the Lord intends them to be.

For example, through our high-element activities, campers can discover that courage is merely choosing to act in the face of fear, rather than a complete absence of fear. On the other hand, these adventures show campers how independent and capable they truly are; the empowered faces of campers after they've tried zip lining at dizzying heights make this ministry worth it! We like to relate these empowering experiences to how God gives us the tools to follow His plan for our lives while reminding us that He is in control and protects us daily. We are blessed to live and work in a place that allows us to remind ourselves and others of this love so often.

We train our summer staff and full-time staff with great intention so they can facilitate authentic relationships and experiences that are both fun and encouraging. We make sure that our staff has your camper's spiritual, physical, emotional, and mental needs in mind. They are equally equipped to be able to both make sure your camper is hydrated and to challenge them to grow during the day's bible study.

We recognize that this is a partnership with you. Within this letter, you will find some information that will help us make camp a great experience for your camper. Please take the time to read through the entire welcome packet.

We may contact you during the course of your camper's stay at camp. We may do this if we are struggling to help your camper overcome homesickness, or if we need help understanding a behavior they are displaying; of course, we will contact you immediately regarding any health issue that is beyond the occasional stomach ache or small bumps or bruises. We know that getting an unexpected call from camp can be scary, but we also know that your assistance in these matters is vital to helping us make sure that your camper has a great experience at camp.

Thank you again for allowing us to serve your camper. Please do not hesitate to contact us regarding your thoughts and concerns about camp and your camper's experience. We will be sending out a short survey after their stay with us, and we would be most grateful if you would take a few minutes with them to let us know how we are doing.

-Jacques Van Wyk and Hunter Hughes.

In the meantime, please contact us with any questions or concerns.

Curriculum Overview

“The Unknown”

This summer, Eagle Adventure Camps (EAC) will focus on the life of Joseph. He had dreams which were promises from God. The journey he was placed on in the unveiling of the Lord’s plans for him looked nothing short of crazy, yet after much perseverance, trust in the Lord, and having a positive outlook regardless of his circumstances, those dreams became a reality. As we face these strange days, and the future seems unknown, we will look at Joseph’s life to glean how to live a life focused and trusted in God. No matter what...

- Joseph’s dreams
- Sold into Slavery
- Favor with Potiphar
- Jail time
- Reunited with his Father

Joseph stayed the course. He went through a lot, instead of falling into bitterness and having pity parties he continued trusting God. In the end, he saw God’s provision and how his brothers meant to cause him harm, God used it for good - providing for Egypt and saving his family from the famine. Our ways are not His ways, and our thoughts are not His thoughts. God is never late, He is always right on time!

Helpful Tips

6 Things You Can Do to Help Your Camper Succeed At Camp

1. Be sure to print the health screening form and record your camper's temperature for the 14 days prior to camp, don't forget to bring it with you on check in day!

2. Discuss the camp's policies with your camper beforehand.

Make sure your camper understands what the policies are and that he or she has to honor them.

3. Talk with your camper about his or her concerns and what he/she is looking forward to.

Acknowledge your camper's concerns positively. Let them know that you understand that he or she is anxious, unsure, or nervous and that it is okay to feel that way. Resist the temptation to "rescue" your child from homesickness. Acknowledge in a positive way that you will miss your camper and you are confident that he or she will be able to complete the camp session.

4. Pack together with your camper.

Pack things with your camper that they will be comfortable wearing. Pack a flashlight with lots of extra batteries. Pack a favorite stuffed animal or storybook for bedtime. Use the packing list included in the Welcome to Camp materials.

5. Let your camper know that the camp staff is there to help them.

Make sure they understand that if they have a problem, they should let their counselor know.

6. Prepare your camper for spending time away from home at camp.

Visit the website with your camper and look at the pictures. Encourage your camper to ask questions about camp. Practice being away from home overnight. Have a sleep out in the backyard or at a friend's house.

Avoid Doing These 5 Things That Set Your Camper Up For Failure

1. Avoid making deals or bribes.

For example, avoid saying, "If you don't like it, Mommy will come and pick you up" or "If you stay at camp, Daddy will get you a new bike when you come home."

2. Avoid statements or actions that conflict with camp policies.

Avoid saying things like "If you get homesick, you can call me", when camp has a policy that does not permit campers to call home or allowing your child to pack a digital music player, e-reader, or cell phone when the packing list says to leave it at home.

3. Avoid sending your camper to camp during a disruptive home situation.

For example, in situations where a Grandparent died last week or parents just got a divorce, it's best to give your camper time to adjust. Check with us to see if it's possible to switch to a session later in the summer.

Camp Eagle®

Adventure Camps

4. Avoid keeping helpful information from camp staff about your camper.

For example, not letting staff know your camper is prone to bedwetting is counterproductive. By providing our staff with as much information as possible, you help us help your camper. Having information ahead of time saves us from having to “troubleshoot” a puzzling situation in search of a solution. Instead, we can be proactive.

5. Avoid taking your camper off of prescription medications for their week at camp.

Camp is a less structured environment than your child may be used to at school. Children are more active and stay up later at camp. If your camper requires medication while at home under normal circumstances, it is beneficial for your camper to continue to use the normal prescribed medication.

Packing Tips

Pack With Your Camper

Packing with your child is a great opportunity to build excitement about camp and to talk about any anxieties or concerns your camper may have about their upcoming camp experience. Plus, you can make sure they pack everything that they need to bring and leave at home the stuff that should stay at home.

Use The “What to Pack” Checklist

Use the checklist when you pack. Once you are all packed, tuck the checklist in your camper’s luggage and instruct them to use it when they pack their stuff up at the end of the week. That way, they have a way to make sure they’ve got everything they came with and are leaving nothing behind.

What To Pack Your Stuff In

Pack your camper’s stuff so that you can carry it a short distance to their cabin or yurt. Storage space in the cabins and yurts is limited. Pack all your items in a hard trunk or plastic container (anything taller than 15 inches will not fit under the beds) that you can wipe out and sanitize. Regular suitcases are not preferred because they are difficult to clean.

Label Everything

Put your camper’s first and last name on everything using a permanent marker. Be sure to label your camper’s luggage. If your camper loses something, it may turn up in lost and found. Unclaimed items are disposed of or donated to charity two weeks after your camper’s session ends.

Pack Appropriate Attire For Camp

Pack clothing that is comfortable in hot weather, suitable for outdoor play, and has the potential to get wet and dirty. Campers should not pack suggestive or revealing outfits, nor articles of clothing that promote alcohol, tobacco, drug use, sexual behavior, or contain inappropriate language.

Camp Eagle[®]

Adventure Camps

A Note About Swimsuits

We prefer those female campers wear modest one-pieces or tankini suits while at camp and that male campers wear swim trunks or board shorts. Campers must wear a t-shirt or cover-up if wearing swimwear outside of the waterfront.

If You Are Bringing Medications to Camp

All medications (prescription, non-prescription, and over-the-counter) remain with and are dispensed by our Medical Staff. Please pack your medications separately from your luggage in the original prescription bottles that are labeled with your camper's information so that you will be able to easily access them and turn them into the Medical Staff during Check-In.

Overview of Small Group Camping

Small-Group Camping

At Camp Eagle, we focus on building community and the give and take that goes along with that. To that end, the small group is at the core of our program. Upon arriving at camp, children are placed in “family groups” that typically comprise 12 campers and 2 counselors. Due to Covid-19, these numbers are reduced to 10 campers per cabin for better spacing in accordance with the CDC standards. This group remains together for the duration of the camper’s time at camp, traveling to and from, and participating in activities together. We find that this model allows campers to form meaningful friendships and for the counselors to really get to know their campers. A genuine sense of the close-knit community forms along the way among the members of the group. Within the group, each person has the opportunity to find his or her role, and contribute to the well being of others. Campers learn to recognize and appreciate the uniqueness and value of each individual in the group.

The Day-To-Day Schedule and Small Group Camping

In Camp Eagle’s small group camping model all groups will have their own schedule of all the things they will get to do during the week. An element of this small group model that is sometimes frustrating for campers is that each camper will not get to “have their way” all the time! For example, a camper may not want to go to archery when some of the other members are excited to go. With the guidance of their counselors, campers learn to consider the needs, desires, and perspectives of all members of the group. Through check-ins with the group, team-building challenges, and other group building activities, counselors and campers learn to work together towards compromise, reaching agreements and creating a win-win situation they encounter where differing opinions and personal priorities are in play.

Campers are encouraged to participate enthusiastically and to the best of their ability in all aspects of camp life, even if the activity or decision made by the group “is not their favorite”. Ultimately, while we do require campers to remain with their group at all times, no camper will be forced to participate in any activity they are not comfortable participating in. We call this “Challenge by Choice”.

Communication with your camper while at Camp

Should I write to my camper?

YES!! Nothing makes a camper's day like receiving a letter from home. Parents are encouraged to write their camper regularly while he or she is at camp. To help you save on postage and to ensure your letters arrive on time, we recommend that you "pre-write" your messages and drop them off with us on Check-In day. We will deliver mail collected at Check-In throughout the week. Mail is distributed daily at lunch. In order to send letters to your camper, use the following address (make sure you send it well in advance):

For Teen Campers (8th-12th grade)
[Your Child's Name]
Care of Camp Eagle - Teen Camp
6424 Hackberry Road
Rocksprings, Tx 78880

For Headwaters Campers (1st-7th grade)
[Your Child's Name]
Care of Camp Eagle- Headwaters
6424 Hackberry Road
Rocksprings, Tx 78880

Can I send emails to my camper?

YES. We encourage you to email your child daily. We provide a "Camper Mail" Service for $10 that you can find on the registration portal under "Purchasable Add Ons". Instructions for using this service will be emailed to you just before your camper arrives. The one-way email service will be active the day your camper arrives at camp. Messages are delivered every day at lunch. We find that the best messages are ones where you tell your camper how proud of them you are and how you are looking forward to hearing about their time at camp. Refrain from telling your camper how much you miss them, or other phrases that might make them homesick. It's always good to close with "See you on Saturday!" Remember, campers do not have access to computers at camp and won't respond to your email (unless they write a letter home).

Can I send my camper a care package?

Care packages that do not contain candy or food are great; because of limited space to store packages, we cannot accept a package larger than 12" x 15" x 3/4". We ask that you do not bring or mail food or candy to camp. Campers are served delicious and nutritious meals and snacks throughout the day while at camp. Including food or candy in care packages only encourages insects and critters to find their way into cabins and yurts where they do not belong. Care package containing food or candy can also create challenging situations especially if other campers have specific food allergies and it also can upset the sense of community which counselors work hard to build among their groups of campers. If you do choose to send a package please make sure you use UPS. We will deliver packages to campers on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays. Note that we need to quarantine packages for 24 hrs before handing it to your campers.

What are the camp policies related to telephone calls and campers having cell phones?

During camp, we work hard to build a sense of community among campers. We design the program, activities, and experiences for campers so that they can “get away” from the distractions and “busyness” of the everyday world and be in a place where they can connect with the Holy Spirit in nature. Camp is also a time of self-discovery and testing out one’s independence. Experience has shown us that allowing campers to have telephone contact with friends or family in the “real world” detracts from the camp experience, is counter-productive to our mission goals, and disrupts our ability to build community at camp. For these reasons, we do not permit campers to carry cell phones or make or receive phone calls (unless accompanied by a staff member after consultation with the assistant director).

Know that if a situation involving your child arises that warrants parental involvement, be it severe homesickness, a behavior issue, or a healthcare concern, we will contact you as soon as possible. If you have an emergency and you need to contact your camper, please call the camp office at 830-683-3536.

Food Allergy information

At Camp Eagle, we strive to provide the very best service and most delicious meals possible, knowing that mealtime is a crucial (special) time where the Lord can work and relational ministry can happen. Most of our meals are served family-style in the Rio Grande Lodge which overlooks the Nueces River. For meals served in the Rio Grande Lodge, we offer a breakfast cereal bar with several different types of cereal, yogurt, and fruit and for lunches and dinners, there is a fresh salad bar with vegetables, toppings, and fruit.

Recognizing that peanut allergies are a widespread concern for many people, our Rio Grande kitchen is a peanut-free facility. We strive to be a nut-free kitchen as well.

At this time, we are unable to accommodate for any other type of food allergy or dietary concern or illness and do not provide meals cooked differently or substitutes. We encourage guests to bring their own food precisely labeled and then microwave it in the special dietary room at mealtime.

If you have any questions or would like the summer meal schedule please contact our Food Service Director Jenn Mitroff jenn.mitroff@campeagle.org

Frequently Asked Questions

- Are there any camp policies I should be aware of?
 - Yes! Per our camp policy, we require that campers be lice and temperature free (100.0) before arriving at camp. We will check campers for temperatures that present as a fever upon arrival; if your camper is positive for lice or has a fever of 100.0, they will be asked to return to camp after they have been lice and/or temperature free for twenty-four hours. If coming back during your registered session is not feasible, you may reschedule for a later session free of charge (not including purchasable add-ons).
 - Additionally, we hold our campers' safety with the utmost importance. We will work closely with you during your camper's session if incidents arise that require your attention in regards to conflict between campers, injury, or inappropriate behavior. We classify inappropriate behavior as incidents of camper nudity, violence, bullying, etc. While these incidents are incredibly rare at Camp Eagle, we do take them seriously and have sent campers home in the past if we feel they are unsafe or causing others to be unsafe.
- Do you offer a return ride from Camp Eagle?
 - Unfortunately, we do not offer bus services for campers returning home from Camp Eagle. Our bus service exists only for opening days for those who cannot make the drive out to Camp Eagle on the opening day of their registered session. If you are having trouble planning rides home for your camper, consider picking your camper up a day early or finding a friend to carpool home with.
- What do I do if I need to contact my camper?
 - In case of an emergency, please email Jacques or Hunter, at jacques.vanwyk@campeagle.org or hunter.hughes@campeagle.org and call our office at 830-683-3536. If you cannot reach us by phone, please leave a detailed voicemail that we will return as soon as possible.

Adventure Camps

From Houston: We recommend taking Hwy 290 to Austin or I-10 West to San Antonio and follow the directions for those cities!

Please know we are an outdoor adventure camp in every sense of the phrase. Even Our 8-mile dirt road driveway is an outdoor adventure. While a 4x4 is not necessary, we do ask that you abide by the 25 mph speed limit until you cross the river where the speed limit changes to 15 mph and be please courteous of the 2-way traffic
